VINIE DALY PRE-WEDS RUSSO

First Marriage to John P. Kohl was Annulled by Groom's Parents.

HE WAS A MINOR THEN.

Vinie Daly, the actress and new-fledged opera singer, has just been remarried in this city to John P. Kohl of Chicago. The first marriage took place secretly in Philadelphia five years ago and the marriage was annulled because Kohl was not then of age.

Vinie Daly, to use her world-famous stage name, is the headliner at R. F. Kohl's Theatre in Boston. This week she has recently returned from studying grand opera abroad.

One of her relatives in Russia confirmed the wedding rumor today. John P. Kohl is the son of the late Charles R. Kohl, who was president of the Kohl & Castle Amusement Company of Chicago. The elder Kohl was chiefly instrumental in having the first marriage annulled. It is inferred now that the death of the father has left the son more free to act.

Young Kohl's mother is said to be a sister of Julia Arthur (Mrs. B. F. Cheney).

Vinie Daly is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Daly of Boston and niece of the late Dan Daly. She was taught dancing almost as soon as she could toddle. She went on the stage and played the part of the dancing, acting and singing ability of the collective Daly family.

In June 22, 1908, Vinie Daly and young Kohl, who were under age, were secretly married at 7:30 p. m., in Philadelphia. When he took the first train to Chicago, while his bride remained in the theatre in which he was appearing. The couple did not see each other again and the marriage was annulled.

Boy Drowned When "War" Canoe Tips

Nine Are Thrown Into Charles by Capsizing of Craft.

George Francis Curtis, thirteen years old, of Kenilworth street, Roxbury, was drowned today in the Charles river at West Boston, when the "war" canoe in which he and his eight others capsized. Morris Cassey of Belmont and Alfred Hewes of Neponset grabbed Curtis and attempted to float him to shore. Curtis broke away from them and sank. The party consisted of Alfred Hewes, twenty-one, of No. 1 Oakland street, Neponset; Joseph R. Woodward, twenty-three, of Fenway street, East Boston; Harry G. Beach, twenty-five, of East Boston; Charles B. Partridge, twenty-one, of No. 29 Edgewood street, Roxbury; Alfred S. Neumann, twenty-one, of No. 10 Windsor street, Dorchester; Arthur Blum, twenty-one, of No. 6 Rockland street, Roxbury.

6 Salem Buildings Go in $350,000 Fire

Vaughn Plant Wiped Out, 50 Others Damaged; Workers Just Escape

SALEM, June 18.—The George C. Vaughn shoe leather plant, the largest of its kind in the country, was totally destroyed by fire today. There were five buildings in the plant. Fifty other buildings, houses and factories surrounding, caught from the heat of the flames. The damage was $350,000.

For an hour it looked as though the flames would sweep Salem. A score of bucket brigades were organized and fought the flames on the roofs of houses near the factory. Four thousand employees of the C. & D. & L. factory and the American Hide & Leather Company helped the fight to check the flames. The fire started in the dry loft of the tanning building in the Vaughn plant. The buildings were all wooden, and wet up like a flash. The employees had barely time to escape.

President Denies Bryan Interfered

WASHINGTON, June 18.—There is absolutely no disagreement among any of the men concerned in the feinting of the currency bill. The report that Secretary of State Bryan interfered in the feinting of the currency reform measure is without a shred of truth. This statement was made by President Wilson today in answer to a query concerning rumors of disagreement among the men who have drafted the currency bill, which is to be introduced in the House and the Senate.

Carmen at State House to Beat Veto

Over 1,500 Unemployed Employees Urge Salons to Override Foes.

More than 1,500 unemployed conductors and motormen, representing twenty-four localities of the Street Car Men's Union with a combined membership of 15,700, gathered today at the State House in an attempt to influence the Legislature to override Governor Fane's veto of their "Nine in Eleven" bill.

The House today adopted an order requesting an opinion from the Attorney General as to the constitutionality of the bill. Action on the veto was deferred until this afternoon.

The Governor's message, explaining Governor Fane's veto of the bill for street car employees, was made public today when it was read in the House.

The Governor's principal reason against the bill is that it would be unconstitutional. The Governor's principal reason against the bill is that it would be unconstitutional.

"I take this occasion," says the Governor in his message, "to say that I believe those who advise the workmen of Massachusetts in respect to these repeated demands are rapidly defeating their purpose and injuring the true interests of labor in Massachusetts by forcing their always increasing requirements faster than economic conditions in this State justify."

DOHERTY REPEATS WARNING

Bardo "Raising Hell," Engine Master's Caution as He Took Out Fated 1338.

FEDERAL INVESTIGATION ON

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., June 18.—That Engineer Doherty with the second section of No. 53 was running at ninety miles an hour when he passed Glenbrook, a mile and a half east of Stamford, was drawn from Train Dispatcher Rutledge, one of the witnesses in the investigation of Thursday's wreck when six were killed and a score injured, which began here today under the direction of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Rutledge read the records of the two sections of No. 53 between South Norwalk and Stamford. The first section reached Stamford tower at 4:46 p. m., and the second at 4:50, when the wreck occurred. The regular running time of these trains between South Norwalk and Stamford, the witness said, was eleven minutes.

Commissioner McHardy, who presided, drew from the witness that Doherty made the run from Glenbrook, the first station west of Stamford, to that place in about one minute. As the distance is one and one-half miles, Doherty was making ninety miles an hour when passing Glenbrook.

Mr. McHardy got the admission from the dispatcher that if a train made a run between blocks in a fraction over a minute, it was a record.

Four witnesses were not slightly. Will Armstrong and F. H. Woodson of Naugatuck, engineers, who were riding in the train, were not slightly.

A defective rail caused the engine's tender to leave the rails. One of the right cars followed the tender, the last two cars staying on the rails.

By what passengers regarded as a miracle there was no serious or fatal injury.

Wharf fishermen claim this is the earliest date that swordfish have ever arrived at the wharf.

DELAYED REPAIRS BLAMED

Pullman Car Passengers Have to Walk 4 1/2 Miles to North Chelmsford.

SIX CARS LEAVE THE TRACK

The first section of the Boston & Maine's Bar Harbor express, one of the crack Summer trains for seventy people and millionaires, was derailed at 2:47 a. m. today at a dangerous curve near Graniteville station, between Ayer and Lowell, on the Stony Brook division, where repair work was begun two months ago, but was recently suspended.

Residents of Graniteville who worked in the woods of the wreck said that they have feared an accident at that point because the track equipment was thought and heavy repairs to stand the strain of the heavy Pullman car equipment. Repairs were placed along the track two months ago with the idea of strengthening the road there, but the repair work was suspended.

'TOO DRASTIC,' SAYS FOSS IN BARBERS' VETO

The Governor Pess today vetoed the bill for the further regulation of barbers, introduced by the State Branch, American Federation of Labor.

The Governor says the bill "is too far-reaching and would impose serious hardships upon those seeking to earn a living through the barbers' trade."

The message says in part:

I recognise the imperative necessity of protecting the public from unskilled and uncleanly work in barber shops, but I would direct the attention of the Legislature to the regulations already enforced by local boards of health and to the authority now vested in such boards under our statutes to issue such regulations.

and would have had to study the business of barbering for a period of two years as an apprentice or one year as a student in a school under the instruction of a qualified barber; or he would have had to study as an apprentice or practice as a barber in another State for a period of not less than three years.

But neither of these conditions are unnecessary and that it is unwise to impose legislative handicaps and restrictions upon any honest trade or vocation unless such restriction is clearly demonstrated to be necessary in the interests of the public.

BEGINNING TOMORROW (THURSDAY) MORNING

Filene Annual Sale of Men's Summer Shirts

18,380 New Shirts at the Very Unusual Prices Quoted Below

WHY

WHY?

WE ARE GOING TO PUT THE FILENE MEN'S STORE ON THE MAP—FOR KEEPS—THIS YEAR. NEXT YEAR OR THE YEAR AFTER WONT DO!

What Makes This Sale Typically FILENE Why It Will Make Your Pockets Tingle

THE usual shirt sale in the usual store rides on a plunderbus. The only starch is that which the laundry supplies. In such sales the shirts are worth no more than the discards of any other game.

THESE FILENE SALE SHIRTS have been made for us, in accord with our strict specifications, by some of the BEST makers in their BEST way. Most of them are newer than the leaves on Boston Common trees!

Makers of these shirts are as eager to have this store score a three-year winning in a twelve month as we are. Without hesitancy they provide for our two annual shirt sales their VERY BEST at prices that take no account of profits. Little wonder that we waive profits, too!

That lets you in as a charter member of this Snappy Men's Store GET-THERE-QUICK CLUB. Many will buy in dozen or half-dozen lots

While You're About It

THE AVERAGE woman is more than content to go shopping frequently—many of them would go every day if they could.

But if the average man were able to clean up a year's shopping in a forenoon, he would jump at the opportunity.

That is not possible. But why not approach as near to it as we can?

Tomorrow, for example, is SHIRT DAY in the Filene Store. It will be safe to say that many hundreds of men will buy a year's stock of shirts on this occasion.

But they need not stop there. They may buy Filene Special COLLARS at special prices at the same time.

These collars we sell usually at $1—per half dozen, and at that price we have made a reputation for them all over Boston and vicinity.

Many men tell us that they can get no such value elsewhere. Yet, for this occasion, we have lessened the price to 75c per half dozen.

New, clean collars, in twenty-four new shapes.

Nor need men shoppers stop there. We are offering, also, WASH TIES—cotton, silk and linen—at the special price of 25c.

These are the identical wash ties that sell regularly—and give mighty good value—at 45c.

Street Floor—and Second Floor (By Escalator)

While You're About It

YOU NEED not stop with shirts, collars and wash ties. One floor up (by escalator) an assemblage of MEN'S BLUE SERGE SUITS will be on view tomorrow—prior to a great sale of them beginning Friday morning.

Absolutely first-class, tested and guaranteed blue serge suits, being sold at the very height of the blue serge season at decided price concessions.

THIS IS THE POINT— Tomorrow, while you are here to look over the shirts, you may MAKE ADVANCE SELECTIONS from this special offering of blue serge suits, although the real sale of them does not begin until Friday morning.

We believe you will agree with us that this is an extraordinary opportunity.

(SECOND FLOOR—BY ESCALATOR)

BY THE WAY— During the remainder of June the Filene store will be open daily, INCLUDING SATURDAYS, until 5:30. During July and August the store will not be open at all on Saturdays. On other days in those months the closing hour will be 5.

Beginning with September we shall resume the present arrangement—open until 5:30 daily, including Saturdays.

This plan is regarded by us, and several other Boston stores, as the best for all concerned.

Mrs. Pankhurst's Condition Grave

Daughter Denied Permission to See Mother Without Danger of Arrest.

LONDON, June 18.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, released from Holloway Jail, Monday, because of illness brought on by a hunger strike, was reported today to be in an extremely grave condition. It is known that Christabel Pankhurst telegraphed to Premier Asquith from Paris asking permission to see her mother, but the government refused to waive its determination to arrest the girl as soon as she sets foot on British soil.

HOLD HUSBAND FOR SHOOTING 12-YEAR WARD

Joseph Murray of Winchester was arrested today in the Woburn court on a charge of assault and attempted murder, as a result of the shooting yesterday of John Lally, a twelve-year-old state ward, who for seven years has been under Murray's protection. The motive for the alleged shooting is a complete mystery.

At the same time warrants were asked for the arrest of Mrs. Josephine Murray, charging her with consulting an officer and attempting to rescue a prisoner.

Murray, when he was arraigned, waived examination and was held for the Grand Jury. He refused to tell the police why he shot the boy.

The shooting took place at the Winchester House. Murray had been away from home for six months. He returned unexpectedly and found his wife sitting by Lally's bed. The police say he fired at Lally and that the boy ran from the bed and fled down the stairs. Murray after him.

Bureau Helps Get Jobs to Fit Young People

Thousands of boys and girls who graduate from the grammar schools this week have ended their school days. With them it is a question of how and where to find work.

The Placement Bureau of the Roxbury High School has appealed to the Boston Chamber of Commerce to assist in finding this youthful army good positions. The bureau has studied the young people in an effort to make the job fit the child and the child fit the job.

It is hoped by this means to prevent much discouragement and many failures. No charge is made either to the child or to the employer. Employers are asked to cooperate with the Placement Bureau, which hopes to make the service in industry less their work.

'New York Slow' Say Coast Girls

NEW YORK, June 18.—The way to Philadelphia to repeat the feat of the Liberty Bell, for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, nine young women from the Pacific Coast have arrived at the Hotel Meritt Washington.

"We think the West should be permitted to see the Liberty Bell," said Mrs. G. L. Barkley of Kinross County, Washington, today. "Our request is backed by a petition of 4,000 school children."

"New York is slow, Eastern hotels can't compare with Western ones, the people are foolish, and Eastern women are superior intellectually to the men."

$80,000 Worth of High-Grade Shoes Are Thrown on the Market at 1/3 Price BEGINNING TOMORROW MORNING IN THIS MONSTER

REORGANIZATION SHOE SALE

Thousands of People Attended This Sale Last Week and Bought, and There Are Hundreds of Cases of Fresh Goods Opened for This Sale

About two years ago there was established, as an experiment, at Boston, under the title of the Lynn & Brockton Shoe Market, a retail outlet for the sale of surplus stocks from some of the best manufacturers of these cities, stocks having accumulated through overproduction, countermanded orders, failures of retailers, balances of consignments, etc., etc. It was arranged to sell these shoes at the lowest possible prices.

The experiment, while not profitable from a financial point of view, was such a big success as an outlet proposition that it attracted the notice of big shoe manufacturers of Manchester, Salem and Haverhill. Arrangements have been made to dispose of surplus stocks from these cities at the already established outlet of the Lynn and Brockton shoe markets.

To do this it will be necessary to reorganize the market. Such reorganization necessitates the immediate disposal of all stocks now at the market place at 568 Washington Street, Boston. This stock contains all the 1913 models in fashionable footwear for men, women and children, and will be sold at about 1-3 original cost. Sale starts tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock sharp.

To facilitate reorganization a quick sale is agreed upon, and each of the parties interested agrees to stand an equal percentage of loss occasioned by the hurried sale. Signed, J. W. ROSS, Sec'y Lynn and Brockton Shoe Market.

YALE OARSMEN SHOW UP WELL IN WORKOUTS

RED TOP, Conn., June 18.—The Harvard freshman crews went over the course yesterday morning on time rows and under the most favorable conditions, having smooth water and a light breeze with them.

The freshmen four-oared crew were the first on the river and rowed a mile down stream, getting off to a racing start and rowing a heat of about thirty-four to thirty-two down to the half mile mark, where they gradually speeded up and at the finish were rowing at thirty-six. The time for the mile was 16:15, which is excellent time over this course.

NEW LONDON, June 14.—I watched a few water polo yesterday, but conditions were not just right to give me a try on my own abilities.

However, they performed what HEN they did so well that there is absolutely no doubt they have improved greatly within the past ten days.

They tried several racing starts. One it strikes me that in these they go away rather slowly. It took two or three strokes for them to make any headway. The narrow blades of their English make it difficult to get through the water and make a great connection without result.

The State Democratic Organization Has Taken Its Stand With the Democrats in the Legislature Who Betrayed Their Party Pledge—Such an Organization Is Democratic Only in Name

It is gratifying but not surprising that the AMERICAN has met such general approval of its declaration that it would not support the Democratic party organization which permitted the Democratic principles and a cardinal pledge of the last Democratic platform to be wantonly violated by the passage of the Trolley Merger bill over the Governor's veto.

The worst enemies of the Democratic party, if they had the divine power of controlling events, could not have created a worse situation for the party than its representatives in the Legislature have now themselves created.

A proposition to create a transportation monopoly and to destroy competition between two rival methods of transportation is against all Democratic principles, even though the Democratic platform had not expressly pledged the party to oppose the particular proposition which is intended to establish such a monopoly. That was the condition last year when a good many Democrats voted for the Trolley Merger Bill.

But the party had not expressly and formally denounced the proposition at that time and the AMERICAN was no further than to criticize those Democrats who could not recognize a Democratic principle without having it pointed out to them by a party platform.

But this year the situation is entirely different. The Democratic Governor had vetoed the bill last year upon sound Democratic grounds. The Democrats last Fall had assembled in convention and endorsed the Governor's action in these words:

WE ARE OPPOSED TO THE OWNERSHIP OR CONTROL OF OUR STREET RAILWAYS BY STEAM RAILROADS, AND WE BELIEVE THAT IT SHOULD GO NO FURTHER IN THIS COMMONWEALTH.

That platform was the pledge which the party made to the voters at the following State election when it invited them to support the Democratic ticket.

Chairman Riley of the Democratic State Committee seems to be the only man in Massachusetts who does not consider that a party platform means anything. His endorsement of the action of those Democrats who violated this platform and who quarrelled with their own Governor while he was remaining loyal to one of their policies, shows how hopeless the Democratic organization is.

Pledged against this Trolley Merger Bill by their platform and warned against it by the most influential newspapers and by the Governor, by the Railroad Commission, by the Chamber of Commerce, by the Tax Commissioner, by the Public Franchise League and by the condition of the New Haven Railroad known to all men, these Democrats in the Legislature by their surrender to the railroad lobby have done all they could possibly do to wreck their party. Their little minds and short-sighted vision would not have permitted them to do the work so completely by design as they have now done it by reckless indifference to principle and to party honor.

This is not the first act of apostasy by the Democratic party in the Legislature this year. The Democratic platform declared in favor of submitting to the voters of the State the question whether or not they were willing to grant women suffrage. The bill which would have carried out that platform promise was beaten by Democratic votes in the Legislature.

Now the chairman of the Democratic State Committee says that the Trolley Merger plank in the platform was not an issue in the campaign, even though there was a plank in the party platform denouncing it and even though the Governor's veto of it last year was a part of the Governor's record, which was itself an issue in the campaign.

The Democratic organization, therefore, takes its stand with the Democrats in the Legislature who betrayed their party pledge. It would be ridiculous, therefore, for anybody who regards a great party as something more than an organization by which a few men can get some good jobs and their names in the newspapers, to support the Democratic party in its present condition. Such an organization is Democratic only in the name.

The AMERICAN advocates the SUBSTANCE and not the FORM of things.

"A Splendid Service to the Commonwealth"

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—For your editorials in favor of an appropriation by the Legislature that would permit of a proper representation of Massachusetts at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the members of this board are deeply grateful.

The keen interest taken in this matter by such newspapers as yours was largely instrumental in causing the Legislature to deal with the appropriation question in an intelligent and patriotic manner.

Your work in this instance will prove, we hope, a splendid service to the Commonwealth, and result in great good. We shall try to plan for Massachusetts at the exposition in such a way that you will be both proud of and pleased with the part that you have taken in our behalf. We will appreciate private or public suggestions from you.

P. H. CORR, Chairman.

The Automobile a Good Demon; It Being the Messenger of Civilization.

Everything Being Done to Make Automobiles Safe—They Have Done Wonders for American Roads

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

I WAS almost started on seeing, in the current number of the magazine called MOTOR, a picture of an automobile furnished with the new French device of movable electric eyes!

Even when the auto's great glaring eyes are fixed in direction its resemblance, at night, to a demon of unmaginable swiftness and power is stunning, and one gets out of its way with panicky haste. But when it bears on each side of its head a glowing eye, which turns magically in all directions, searching out the fleeing pedestrian in his retreat by the fence, or the hedge, and detecting every obstruction along the borders of its way, the verisimilitude is complete. Man has never yet made anything so thrillingly lifelike, but inspired with a life that seems more than human!

Yet while, to the excited imagination, these movable mechanical eyes may increase the terror of the auto rushing through the night, they are, for all wanderers in the ways, all somnolence of the night, a means and an assurance of greater safety.

They proclaim, again, that the modern demon of the road is a kindly demon, who means no harm, although he speeds so swiftly, and who would not, willingly, hurt a hair of our heads. He is as devious as we are who look upon him with fear, and jump at his croaking voice, to avoid all evil.

Everything is Being Done to Make Autos Safe

If those who still carp at the automobile, and nurse an antagonism to it, would consider what has been done, and what is still being done—a witness this latest device—to eliminate the peculiar dangers which its invention has introduced into the highways, they would find themselves taking a more philosophical view of things, and would cease their opposition to one of the greatest advances in locomotion that science has ever promoted.

You have only to glance through the pages of the magazine I have mentioned in order to convince yourself that the inventors and manufacturers of automobiles hold nothing more dear than the question of safety; safety for those who ride and for those who only look upon the riders.

The Auto Has Put Bad Roads Out of Business

It is the same with the roads themselves. Unthinking people sometimes blame the automobile for damaging the roads—as if most of the roads that we had before the arrival COULD be damaged! But,

The French Army Recognizes Their Great Value

What will the French do? Will they abandon the army auto, or intercept the manoeuvres? To do as much would be to invite instant conquest of their country. No, they will reconstruct the roads, and increase the number of their auto cars. They know the inestimable value of the good demon that has come to revolutionize transportation on this planet, and the roads will have to be made durable enough to carry him on his civilizing and peace-promoting way; for the auto, in its manner, is as great a force for universal peace as is the strong battleship. Everything that links the world together makes for universal brotherhood, and the faster we travel the richer and more contented we become.

BLAME THE ENGINEER

(A Director's Ditty)

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

RUN the road to get results! Keep expenses low! Economize on employees, for wages mount up so! Use the rolling stock you've got as long as wheels will turn. Suppose it isn't all brand new; that's none of our concern. And if a smash-up comes along, say once or twice a year. Charge it to the loss account, and blame the engineer!

Boost the fares up right along, and if the people balk, Tell 'em they don't have to ride; they can always walk! Keep the freight rates going up; if the shippers whine, They must pay 'em just the same; we've got the only line. In case of wrecks go into court and fight on every claim, And don't forget the battle cry: "The engineer's to blame!"

Watch repair bills! Keep 'em down! A lot of harm is done By useless high-priced tinkering on engines that will run, Keep away from foolish fads; steel cars cost more to build, And wooden ones are good enough; your job's to keep 'em filled. Of course they smash to splinters in a wreck; but never fear If any one gets after you, just blame the engineer.

When men are busy building up a scheme of high finance, They can't be too conservative; they've got to take a chance. We'd rather not pay death claims out, but in the last account, They're cheaper than big running cost, by quite a snug amount. And so, when on our right of way we see a lurid flame Leap forth from car to car, we say: "The engineer's to blame!"

The battle of Gettysburg was fought fifty years ago. The anniversary will be celebrated this Summer.

The AMERICAN has secured a limited edition of a "Gettysburg Memorial" volume. It contains photographs of every monument at Gettysburg, and every important position of the Union and rebel troops. There are photographs of many of the details of the battle. All printed on glass paper, from exceptionally fine halftones.

The Sunday AMERICAN will contain a coupon. For this coupon and five cents you can secure the Memorial.

GREEN THINGS

By MINNA IRVING

IT'S full of green things growing, This garden patch of mine, Where golden sunbeams glisten, And early dewdrops shine. I've hoed it every morning, And watered it each night, And watched the tiny leaflets Come peeping into sight.

It's full of green things growing, My little garden patch, But I am far the greenest Of all the verdant batch. With fond anticipations I moved a peck of seeds, But pulled them as they sprouted, And raised a crop of weeds.

Snap-Shots

By LILIAN LAUFERTY

Just a smile for the people who pass you, Just a smile and a kind, thoughtful word— And their hearts grow strong, 'Tis the way he long, For what they have seen and heard, Just a gleam of the warm, Summer sunlight.

Just the song of a glad little bird— And the world seems bright, And the heart grows light, For what it has seen and heard.

"Oh, foolish soul that could not watch and wait, Until the bud should of itself unfold, Spreading each satin petal in due state, To show at last its heart of virgin gold." "Oh, foolish fingers that could tear and soil, These furled petals seeking to disclose Their precious heart too soon, the bud you spoil, And never know the beauty of the Rose."

THOMAS ROBERT NAY

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—I have read with interest your many laudable editorials in favor of a larger navy. If other newspapers were as fearless in criticizing the would-be statesman who opposed the building of more battleships, they would, indeed, show a better spirit of criticism. I have often wondered why the voters of this great country send so many worthless representatives to Congress—men who care no farther than their noses, except when it comes to a question of drawing salaries and looking for a "hand-out" from the big corporations.

If some one proposed a national appropriation to celebrate some historic event here in Massachusetts or in Oklahoma, there wouldn't be any opposition. But when a better spirit of criticism is shown, an awful howl goes up from the backwoods "representatives of the people." Seems to me we ought to get rid of all these empty-headed legislators, or cut the business of running a "wood power."

A COUNTRY DANCE

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

IT was held in a hall neither dirty nor grand. And the various details for weeks had been planned. An untuned piano whose age was a riddle Was half of the music and so was a fiddle. First one, then the other well-meaning musician Snaked out for a tankard of liquid ambition. It was "Just two more couples" (a high honor too!) Then "Just one more couple!" Then "Partners please!" Now on with the dance, arms and feet flying wildly, Till "Joy unconfined" would be putting it mildly. Tall ganglers and short ones, of collars bereft, Did "Right hand to partner, and grand right and left!" It was surely some shindig, this party, thought I, More noisy and gaudy as the hours hurried by.

But there wasn't one person in all that array, From the drier-cidered clown to the temperance Jay, Who dreamed of the Grizzly or Bunny Hug twists Or the Turkey Trot dance on which Fashion insists; Not one of those "stunts" with suggestive names; That sprang from the trees, where they should have remained. There was dearth of politeness and lack of good dress, And the dance ended up in a fracas, I guess. Just a plain country dance, but I'm glad I was there, Not back in the city as some swell "afraid."
